

What is MCEE?

MCEE is a statewide association of business, labor, government, and educational organizations devoted to a standard-based economic and financial education for all Michigan citizens. We emphasize the role of professional educators as the key to quality economic education in the classroom. We also recognize the need for practical, nonbiased and relevant economic and finance education throughout life. We provide the Stock Market Game program across Michigan, the only program of its kind endorsed by the investment industry; and the only “bright spot” on national financial education surveys (National JumpStart Coalition Surveys: 1998, 2000, 2002).

What makes MCEE one of a kind?

Protect free enterprise through education—it is now or never!

Our free enterprise economic system is under attack virtually every day. Our schools and teachers are constantly under fire by authors, organizations, media, and citizens who have an anti-free enterprise, anti-free choice “agenda” they want taught in our K-12 schools. Our schools and educators need a guardian to protect them. That is what MCEE has been doing for more than 25 years—protecting our schools to assure quality standards-based economic education.

The most formidable medicine against an anti-free enterprise agenda is education. This includes the education of every Michigan citizen from early in their educational process through adult learning. Math, reading, writing, and even personal finance are critically important subjects. Yet, they are not enough.

The Council protects our free enterprise economic system through education. We focus on two key principles: 1) Teachers can't teach what they don't know, and 2) Students can't learn what they are not taught. MCEE focuses on protecting free enterprise through high-quality professional development for teachers, and high-quality standards-based curricula, research, and alignment to state standards. MCEE strives to assure that each Michigan citizen is economically literate to be a productive citizen, voter, producer, consumer, saver and investor.
